

The First Workshop on Intelligent Transport Systems

between the University of Tokyo and Tongji University

- The State-of-the-art and the Future of ITS research & development in Japan and China

1. Objective

This workshop is intended to provide an opportunity to bring together distinguished researchers and practitioners in the field of Intelligent Transport Systems (ITS) from Japan and China to share knowledge and thoughts regarding the state-of-the-art and the future of ITS research and development in Japan and China, particularly recent efforts and achievements of the University of Tokyo and Tongji University.

Meanwhile, the organizers cordially hope that this workshop will act as the beginning of a series of international workshops or symposiums on ITS between ITS Center of the University of Tokyo and School of Transportation Engineering of Tongji University, in order to build sustainable collaborations between these two leading research institutes in the field of ITS.
